The BOI Lecture Series

The Department of English, University of North Bengal, announces the BOI Lecture Series that will feature thinkers talking about their most recent book, the book.

BOI will focus on books that have changed the field. The BOI lectures aim to allow readers an intimate insight into the creative process, of how the featured book came to be.

The first speaker in the BOI Lecture Series is:

Catherine Malabou
Professor,
Kingston University and
University of California,
Irvine

The book in focus: Before Tomorrow: Epigenesis and Rationality
Date: 28th January, 2021
