Emerging Issues in Environment, Livelihood and Development:

A Future Road Map Towards Sustainable Earth

26th – 28th January, 2024 In collaboration with

Indian Society of Remote Sensing

First Circular

Organised by Department of Geography & Applied Geography UNIVERSITY OF NORTH BENGAL

Raja Rammohunpur, Siliguri, 734013 District: Darjeeling, West Bengal, India

University of North Bengal

Welcome to the University of North Bengal, a premier educational institution where education and nature blend seamlessly. Our campus is renowned for its lush green surroundings, offering a serene and conducive environment for both learning and relaxation. Founded in 1962 under an Act of the West Bengal Legislature, the University of North Bengal is dedicated to fostering education, training, and research across various disciplines. Its mission is to advance and share knowledge, adapting higher education to meet societal needs. Set on 315.99 acres at the Himalayan foothills, the university offers stunning views of the Kanchenjunga peak, surrounded by tea gardens and forests. Expanding its educational reach, it has also established a second campus in Jalpaiguri, further enhancing opportunities for higher education and research. For more details, visit [https://www.nbu.ac.in].

How to reach

Siliguri boasts excellent connectivity to major cities like Kolkata, Chennai, Hyderabad, Mumbai, Delhi, Gauhati, as well as international destinations like Kathmandu, Gangtok, and Thimpu, through a variety of transport options. The nearest major railway station is New Jalpaiguri (NJP), situated on the key transit route connecting Gauhati/Dibrugarh to Kolkata/Chennai/Hyderabad/Pune/Delhi, with all major trains stopping here. Additionally, Bagdogra Airport is a mere 4 km from our University Campus. Conveniently located beside AH-02, the campus is just 7 km from Siliguri and 10 km from the NJP Railway Station, and 4 km from Bagdogara Airport making it easily accessible.

About the Department of Geography & Applied Geography

Established in 1962 concurrently with North Bengal University, the Department of Geography and Applied Geography offers postgraduate education & Ph.D. programs on both the NBU and Jalpaiguri campuses. The department, having successfully completed the UGC SAP DRS I and II program, specializes in Agriculture Geography, Applied Hydrology, Applied Pedology, Cartography, Fluvial Geomorphology, Population Geography, Tourism Geography, & Urban Geography at the postgraduate level. It's further enhanced by the attached Centre for Geo-Spatial Sciences. The department's faculty includes 2 Professors, 3 Associate Professors, and 3 Assistant Professors, all actively engaged in research that spans physical and human geography. Featuring a cuttingedge GIS laboratory with 40 terminals equipped with GIS software, it supports both students and research scholars. Currently, over 70 research scholars, including JRFs and SRFs, are pursuing their fellowships funded by organizations like UGC, ICSSR, & NBU.

About Ministry of Earth Science, Government of India

The Ministry of Earth Sciences (MoES), Government of India, was established on July 27, 2006, through the merger of the India Meteorological Department (IMD), the National Centre for Medium Range Weather Forecasting (NCMRWF), the Indian Institute of Tropical Meteorology (IITM), Pune, and the Earth Risk Evaluation Centre (EREC), and the Ministry of Ocean Development. Focused on providing comprehensive and integrated research, development, and operational services in the fields of meteorology, oceanography, seismology, and related earth sciences, MoES plays a crucial role in addressing various aspects of earth system science for socio-economic benefits of society. The ministry's activities cover a wide range of domains including weather and climate services, ocean research, seismology, and atmospheric science research, making significant contributions to understanding and protecting the environment, and enhancing disaster preparedness.

About the International Conference

This conference, set for January 26-28, 2024, focuses on the role of quantitative and qualitative applications in addressing emerging environmental, livelihood, and developmental challenges in line with the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It emphasizes the evolving nature of global issues, highlighting the relevance of geo-spatial technologies like GIS, Remote Sensing (RS), and GPS. These technologies are crucial for analyzing and visualizing spatial data, aiding in informed decision-making and policy formulation.

The conference will explore how these tools can help visualize environmental challenges and contribute to achieving the SDGs. A multi-sectoral approach will be adopted, transcending traditional geographical boundaries to address a wide range of issues including environmental sustainability, human development, urban planning, sustainable agriculture, renewable energy, water resource management, disaster risk reduction, livelihood challenges, and sociodemographic diversity. The event will also involve discussions on sustainable policy frameworks, engaging panelists from administration and NGOs, to create a roadmap towards a sustainable earth.

Objective of the conference

- 1. To explore the emerging global issues in environment, livelihood and development.
- 2. To address the geographical issues by incorporating some advancement of sustainable policy framework for catering the socio-ecological wellbeing of the global society.
- The Seminar aims to congregate prominent experts, researchers, policy makers and practitioners from the variety of fields including geography, environmental sciences, urban planning, social sciences and technology and other domains too.
- 4. To frame out a policy documentation for addressing the global issues and challenges in future.

Sub-themes of the International Conference

This International Conference focuses on several vital sub-themes, including strategies to combat climate change, sustainable agriculture, urban development, renewable energy, biodiversity conservation, and sustainable economic models. This categorization of sub-themes is illustrative below and not limited to these topics, reflecting the conference's comprehensive approach.

- Theme 1: Environment, Climate Change, and Livelihood
